About the Luiss School of Government

The Luiss School of Government is part of Libera Università Internazionale degli Studi Sociali (Luiss) Guido Carli, a multidisciplinary University offering degrees at all levels in Business, Economics, Politics and Law. Located in Rome, the University is committed to excellence, demonstrated through considerable investment in education and research.

Thanks to its affiliation with Confindustria, the General Confederation of Italian Industry, the University has a deep understanding of the needs of the country's business scene as well as Italian companies operating internationally.

Luiss University's excellence in teaching and research has recently been confirmed through an independent evaluation by Il Sole 24 Ore, one of Europe's leading daily newspapers, ranking Luiss as the best university in Italy for international politics and security studies.

About Universidad Francisco de Vitoria

Universidad Francisco de Vitoria (UFV) is a private, non-profit Catholic University located in metropolitan Madrid, Spain. Founded in 1993, UFV has since become a fast-growing institution of higher education.

Today the campus houses six faculties, including a prestigious School of Culinary Arts (Le Cordon Bleu), a Vocational Training Center (CETYS), a Postgraduate Studies Center, an Executive Consulting and Coaching Center (IDDI), an International Business School and a Medical Simulation Center.

With a student-centered and comprehensive educational approach, UFV accompanies and guides each of their students throughout his or her time at the University, providing the necessary support for them to become outstanding professionals in their respective fields as well as well-rounded thinkers and leaders who can make significant contributions to society.

Introduction

Jointly organized by the Luiss University School of Government in Rome and Universidad Francisco de Vitoria in Madrid, this advanced program provides in-depth knowledge of the main security and policy challenges affecting the Mediterranean region, such as economic and financial developments, governance in the Arab world, military and civil conflicts, as well as sustainability and environmental challenges. The program also examines how these security challenges can be managed to promote political and financial stability in the region.

Objectives

The Master in Euro-Mediterranean Security is a rigorous program designed to train the next generation of leaders in the field of international politics and management who are passionate about the current state and future developments of the Mediterranean.

Program Description

Within a multidisciplinary core curriculum, students will take advanced courses on international and regional security, the role of European institutions and governance of the Arab world while interacting with professionals and security experts from the Luiss School of Government and UFV. During the first semester, students attend courses in Rome before moving to UVF in Madrid for the second part of the program. Students are required to complete a set of core and elective courses.

Core Courses:

- | International Security
- | Contemporary Theories on Security
- | War & Strategy in the XXI Century
- | Modern Islam vs Islamism
- | Governance in the Arab World
- | The European Union as a Global Actor
